DETAILED ACTION

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 25, 27, 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by So (US 5,666,908). The So animal training method includes the steps of monitoring a receiver 130 via a detector 220 for a coded signal 112 from a transmitter (column 4, lines 17, 18, of So) and subsequently determining whether an electrical stimulation is required (the presence of proper identification and stimulation codes serving as a de facto “request” for stimulation); generating voltage pulses of a specified pulse period and width as determined by the incoming stimulation level code (column 4, lines 39-41, of So); coupling the voltage pulses through a buffer 258 to a switching circuit 260 to generate current pulses of duration PW (column 4, lines 42-45, of So); and applying the current pulses to a power delivery circuit 270 in the form of a transformer 270 and thence to electrodes 132 on an animal collar 120. While the pulse widths and voltages of So can be varied (“adjusted”—column 6, line 3, of So) as shown in Figure 3 of the patent, they are considered to remain fixed for the given stimulation level code—i.e., level of stimulation—required for training circumstances (column 5, lines 62-66, and column 6, lines 4-7, of So).

Art Unit: 3643

Claim 26 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Applicants' arguments filed 31 March 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Claims 25, 27, 28 are not believed allowable for the reasons set forth in the rejection above.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicants are reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Summary: Claims 1-24, 29, 30 have been rejected; claims 25, 27, 28 have been rejected; claim 26 has been objected to.
